

Commitment to Privacy & Responsible Use of Information

We understand your concerns about privacy and security of personal information provided via this website. Any personal details requested and submitted by you are not disclosed to a third party or used for purposes other than those stated on this website.

Information Collected

When you look at this website, our Internet Service Provider makes a record of your visit and logs the following information for statistical purposes:

- your server address;
- your top level domain name such as .com;
- the date and time of your visit to the site;
- the pages you accessed and documents downloaded;
- the previous site you have visited; and
- the type of browser you are using.

If you provide us with personal details, for instance, when applying for products or services online we will request personal information such as your name, email and street address, contact phone and facsimile numbers. We will only record information submitted by you. If at any time you cancel the application or do not submit it, the information is deleted.

Use of Information Collected

We will use the submitted personal information for the purposes of answering your enquiry or providing a quotation. We may release information about you where it is required by the law, but we will not sell your information or disclose it to others for marketing purposes.

This site does not provide facilities for the secure transmission of information across the Internet. You should be aware that there are risks in transmitting information across the Internet.

Access to Information

You can obtain access to your personal information collected by us via this website by sending a written request to us to the attention of our Privacy Officer, Steve Martin. There is no charge for lodging the request but a fee is charged for providing photocopies of the relevant documents calculated at $1.00 per page. We also reserve the right to charge a reasonable fee if a significant amount of time is required to be spent by us to provide you with access to the personal information. If you consider personal information about you is not accurate, complete and up-to-date, we will review the relevant information and if we agree the information needs correcting, take reasonable steps to amend the personal information.

A copy of our privacy policy is available from this website or by sending a written request to:

Cookies

We use "cookies" as part of our interaction with your internet browser. It enables us to provide you with a range of services over the internet.

Emails

We will retain any emails submitted by you to us. We may use your email address to send information which may be of interest to you. You can at any time request us to delete your details from our emails list.

Links to Other Sites

There are links to other websites on our website which may be of interest to you. The inclusion of these links does not mean we recommend the other company, product or service. We have no control over and are not responsible for information on any linked website.

Data Security

Your personal information that is recorded on our server is protected by encryption technology and a system of secure passwords, logons and/or other security procedures.

This Privacy Statement was last amended on 6th November 2008.
